

TRACEs

TRAUMA AND RELATIONAL ADVERSITY IN CAREGIVING ENVIRONMENTS

Leah Buzek
INCUBRIGHTER
Where Ideas Ignite Change.

house keeping

- This training contains discussion on stressful or traumatic situations that can be triggering to Family Peer Supporters
 - Please take whatever time you need, whenever you need it
- Please feel free to ask questions whenever you have them
 - While there is dedicated time for questions, you are not limited to them.

Ice Breaker

Name

How long you've been a Family Peer Supporter

What is something in your fridge that needs cleaned out that you haven't gotten to?

A portrait of Leah Buzek, a woman with short brown hair and black-rimmed glasses, wearing a black blazer over a white top with a colorful butterfly pattern. The background is white with orange curved lines.

My Family's Story

- 3 Community Behavioral Healthcare Providers
- 4 Crisis Stabilization Units + Local Mobile Response
- 2 Police Departments
- National Center for Missing and Exploited Children (NCMEC) and Ohio Internet Crimes Against Children
- Children's Advocacy Center

122 DAYS IN CRISIS STABILIZATION

16 DAYS IN JUVENILE DETENTION

6 MONTHS IN RESIDENTIAL
PSYCHIATRIC CARE

3 (DISMISSED) DOMESTIC VIOLENCE CHARGES

12 VISITS FROM CHILD WELFARE

Leah Buzek: BSS - Applied Social Design

Child-to-Parent Violence

THE HIDDEN CRISIS

WHAT IS CPV?

Child-to-parent violence inverts traditional family power dynamics: the caregiver becomes the target of the child's aggression. This role reversal disrupts how professionals assess risk, assign blame, and intervene.

BY THE NUMBERS

- Physical violence: 5-21% of families
- Verbal/psychological abuse: up to 93% of families
- Often chronic, beginning in early adolescence and escalating over time
- Multiple forms occur simultaneously: insults, threats, property destruction, coercive control, physical injury

WHY IT'S INVISIBLE

Caregivers live with daily fear and trauma but often lack language to name it or support to address it. Cultural narratives about victimhood don't accommodate parents as victims—leading to dismissal, blame, or accusations of incompetence when they seek help.

Risk Factors & Structural Barriers

THE SILENCE TRAP

MULTI-LEVEL RISK FACTORS

- Individual: Trauma exposure, mental illness, emotional dysregulation
- Relational: Insecure attachment, harsh discipline, substance use
- Systemic: Housing instability, fragmented services, lack of CPV-informed care

WHY CAREGIVERS DON'T REPORT

- Shame and fear of retaliation
- Fear of losing custody
- Risk of CPS investigation or being blamed for "provoking" violence
- Mandatory reporting laws that penalize help-seeking
- No framework recognizing CPV as legitimate family trauma

THE RESULT

Silence becomes survival. Caregivers navigate escalating crises alone while systems fail to protect them.

Fragmentation across Systems

Financial instability from caregiving-related job loss

Public stigma and social isolation

Institutional
betrayal: delays,
denial of services,
gaslighting

Emotional degradation and moral injury

TRACEs

TRACEs stands for Trauma and Relational Adversity in Caregiver Environments. It is a screening tool designed specifically to identify signs of trauma activation in caregivers of multi-system-involved youth.

Unlike general stress assessments, TRACEs recognizes that caregiving in these contexts is not simply challenging—it is trauma-inducing.

Why TRACEs Is Not a Strengths-Based Assessment

ACCESSIBILITY IN CRISIS

When caregivers are in crisis or experiencing trauma activation, identifying what is wrong is often more cognitively accessible than articulating what is going well. Asking someone who is drowning to describe their swimming skills is not helpful—they need a lifeline first.

Deficit-focused questions like 'I struggle to manage my child's challenging behaviors' are easier to answer honestly when you're overwhelmed than strengths-focused questions like 'What coping strategies have worked for you?' When you're in survival mode, you don't always have access to that reflective capacity.

Naming Creates Pathways

You cannot address what you cannot name. By explicitly identifying areas of strain (“I feel isolated from my community” or “Financial concerns are a major source of stress”) caregivers can:

- Identify the weakness/gap: Name what is not working
- Identify options: Explore what could help
- Compare with need: Determine fit and priority
- Develop supports: Build targeted interventions

This process itself builds resilience skills. The ability to accurately assess what you lack is a form of self-awareness that enables help-seeking and problem-solving.

Strengths Don't Erase Trauma

Caregivers of multi-system-involved youth are often told they are 'strong,' 'resilient,' or 'doing such a good job.' While well-intentioned, this can feel invalidating when they feel like they are barely surviving. Strengths-based language can unintentionally minimize suffering and discourage honest disclosure of struggle.

BUILDING RESILIENCE THROUGH HONEST ASSESSMENT

True resilience is not pretending everything is fine. It is the capacity to:

- Accurately assess your situation
- Identify what you need
- Ask for help
- Navigate toward support

By helping caregivers name their trauma and identify specific areas of strain, TRACEs equips them to become better advocates for themselves. The assessment becomes a tool for empowerment, not just evaluation.

TRACES SAYS: "TELL ME WHAT IS HARD. TELL ME WHERE YOU ARE HURTING. I WILL NOT ASK YOU TO PROVE YOU ARE STRONG ENOUGH TO DESERVE SUPPORT."

TRACEs Domains

Parent to Child
Impact

Spousal/Nuclear Family
Impact

Extended
Family
Impact

Social/
Comm.
Impact

Financial Strain

Household Safety

Parent-to-Child Impact

WHAT THIS DOMAIN CAPTURES:

This domain focuses on the caregiver's direct relationship with their child. It measures emotional exhaustion, feelings of inadequacy, and the strain on the parent-child bond.

KEY INDICATORS:

- Difficulty understanding the child's needs
- Struggling to manage challenging behaviors
- Loss of meaningful communication
- Feeling overwhelmed and under-resourced
- Guilt and shame over "not being enough"
- Strained emotional bond

How does this show up in discussions
with your
families now?

Spousal/Nuclear Family Impact

WHAT THIS DOMAIN CAPTURES:

This domain examines how caregiving stress affects intimate partnerships and the nuclear family unit. It recognizes that trauma ripples outward, straining marriages, co-parenting relationships, and sibling dynamics.

KEY INDICATORS:

- Conflicts over parenting disagreements
- Clashing parenting styles
- Loss of quality family time
- Feeling unsupported by partner
- Relationship strain affecting overall family happiness
- Physical or mental health decline due to parenting stress

How does this
show up in discussions
with your
families now?

Extended Family Impact

WHAT THIS DOMAIN CAPTURES:

This domain focuses on relationships with grandparents, siblings, in-laws, and broader family networks. It measures judgment, lack of understanding, and the loss of traditional family support systems.

KEY INDICATORS:

- Extended family unsupportive of parenting approach
- Child's behavior creates tension at family gatherings
- Lack of practical help with childcare or daily needs
- Feeling judged or misunderstood
- Extended family gatherings increase stress rather than provide respite

How does this
show up in discussions
with your
families now?

Social/Community Impact

WHAT THIS DOMAIN CAPTURES:

This domain explores how caregivers interact with schools, doctors' offices, community programs, and public spaces. It measures isolation, stigma, and the exhausting work of advocating for a child who doesn't fit neatly into existing systems.

KEY INDICATORS:

- Feeling isolated from community
- Schools difficult to work with
- Limited social activities due to child's needs
- Feeling judged by others
- Advocacy work feels overwhelming
- Community programs don't accommodate child's needs

How does this
show up in discussions
with your
families now?

Financial Strain

WHAT THIS DOMAIN CAPTURES:

This domain measures the financial burden of caregiving—from medical bills and therapy costs to lost income from job changes or leaving the workforce entirely.

KEY INDICATORS:

- Significant financial burden from child's needs
- Difficulty affording resources and support
- Made career or job changes due to child's needs
- Financial concerns a major source of family stress
- Cut back on non-essential expenses
- Uncertainty about long-term financial stability

How does this
show up in discussions
with your
families now?

Household Safety

WHAT THIS DOMAIN CAPTURES:

This is the most urgent domain. It measures physical safety concerns, risk of harm, and the chronic hypervigilance that comes from living in an unpredictable or dangerous environment.

KEY INDICATORS:

- Concerns about household safety
- Child threatens or is physically violent
- Unprepared for emergencies or safety concerns
- Worried about safety of other children in home
- Home lacks necessary safety equipment or modifications
- Emergency situations common and poorly managed

How does this
show up in discussions
with your
families now?

Multi-System Youth, Multi-Layered Strain

Interconnectivity of MSY

Caring for a young person involved in multiple systems(juvenile justice, child welfare, mental health, special education) means navigating a labyrinth of acronyms, appointments, and expectations. For caregivers, the toll of this role isn't just emotional or logistical. It's structural, persistent, and compounded.

QUESTIONS

TAKE A BREAK

TRACES TOOLS

TRACES Screener

What is the Screener?

The TRACES Screener is a 12-question screening tool using Yes/No/Not Applicable responses. It's designed for situations where time is limited or when you need a quick snapshot of caregiver strain.

Use the Screener when:

- You have 10-15 minutes for assessment
- The caregiver is new to services or unfamiliar with assessment tools
- You're in a team meeting and need a rapid check-in
- You want to gauge whether deeper assessment is needed
- The caregiver is emotionally fragile and can't handle a longer assessment

Use the Screener when:

- You have 10-15 minutes for assessment
- The caregiver is new to services or unfamiliar with assessment tools
- You're in a team meeting and need a rapid check-in
- You want to gauge whether deeper assessment is needed
- The caregiver is emotionally fragile and can't handle a longer assessment

General Information

Caregiver Type (Circle One): Biological Parent Foster/Kinship Placement Adoptive Other

Youth Age Group (Circle One): 0-7 Early Childhood 8-13 Youth 14-18 Transitional

Does your child have a disability (Circle One): Yes No

Which Systems of Care is your family currently involved with?

- ☐ Juvenile Justice
- ☐ Child Welfare
- ☐ Disability Support Services
- ☐ Complex Medical Needs
- ☐ School Disciplinary/Truancy
- ☐ Mental/Behavioral Health
- ☐ Interdisciplinary Wraparound Care
- ☐ Adult Justice
- ☐ Individualized Education Plan (IEP or 504 Plan)

TRACEs Screener

Do you agree that the following statements accurately reflect your present situation?

(PCI) I find it challenging to understand and respond to my child's needs.	Not Applicable	Yes	No
(PCI) I struggle to manage my child's challenging behaviors effectively.	Not Applicable	Yes	No
(S/NFI) Conflicts due to parenting disagreements frequently arise in our family.	Not Applicable	Yes	No
(S/NFI) Changes and challenges disrupt our family routines significantly.	Not Applicable	Yes	No
(EFI) Involvement with extended family often leads to more stress rather than well-being.	Not Applicable	Yes	No

Why “YES”, “NO”, and “Not Applicable”?

YES

Easier for defining whether something IS an issue for the family without needing them to evaluate the degree to which it is affecting their family

NO

Easier for defining whether something IS NOT an issue for the family without needing them to evaluate the degree to which it is affecting their family

NOT APPLICABLE

The question doesn't apply to their family structure or situation.

Not Applicable is crucial because not all caregivers have:

- A spouse/partner (Spousal/Nuclear Family domain)
- Extended family involvement (Extended Family domain)
- Multiple children (sibling safety questions)
- Employment to lose (Financial Strain domain)

YES/NO IS FASTER AND LESS EMOTIONALLY DEMANDING.

Screenener Activation Levels

How many YES answers are there?

Safety Flag Protocol: Any "Yes" to safety items triggers immediate conversation and safety planning

0-2

Stable with Strain - Monitor, offer self-guided tools

3-5

Systemic Tension - Open dialogue, lightweight care plan

6-9

Trauma Activation Present -
Begin care plan, team huddle, cross-system coordination

10-12

Crisis Embedded in Care - Escalate planning,
multidisciplinary review,
wraparound supports

of "Yes"	Activation Level	Interpretation	Suggested Next Steps
0–2	Stable with Strain	Minor challenges. No clear trauma activation.	Validate experience, offer self-guided tools, monitor over time.
3–5	Systemic Tension	Early signs of stress accumulation. Patterns forming.	Open dialogue, lightweight care plan, peer support.
6–9	Trauma Activation Present	Relational, financial, or systemic trauma affecting functioning	Begin care plan, team huddle, cross-system coordination.
10–12	Crisis Embedded in Care	Signs of moral injury, deep fatigue, household instability.	Escalate planning, multidisciplinary review, wraparound supports.

6. Household Safety (12 Questions)

How much do you feel these statements reflect your present situation?

I have concerns about the safety of our household environment.	0	1	2	3	4
My child threatens or is physically violent with me or others in my home.	0	1	2	3	4
I feel unprepared for handling emergencies or safety concerns in the home.	0	1	2	3	4
Establishing clear safety rules and boundaries at home is challenging.	0	1	2	3	4
I am constantly worried about the safety of other children in the home.	0	1	2	3	4
Our home lacks necessary equipment or modifications for my child's safety needs.	0	1	2	3	4
Safety concerns significantly restrict family activities at home.	0	1	2	3	4
My child struggles to understand and follow home safety rules.	0	1	2	3	4
Emergency situations at home are common and often poorly managed.	0	1	2	3	4

An example from the Household Safety portion of the Full Assessment

Why a Likert Scale?

0 - 0%

- The statement does not reflect the caregiver's experience at all
- This issue is completely absent from their caregiving situation

1 - 25%

- The statement reflects their experience only minimally
- This issue occurs rarely or has very little impact

2 - 50%

- The statement somewhat reflects their experience
- This issue occurs occasionally or has a moderate impact
- The caregiver may be unsure or the situation fluctuates

3 - 75%

- The statement reflects their experience quite well
- This issue occurs frequently and has significant impact
- The caregiver recognizes this as a notable challenge

4 - 100%

- The statement completely and accurately reflects their experience
- This issue is persistent, severe, and has major impact
- This represents the highest level of strain/challenge in this area

IT SHOWS DEGREES OF STRAIN, ALLOWING PROVIDERS TO SEE WHERE CAREGIVERS NEED THE MOST SUPPORT

Full Assessment Activation Levels

Scoring Rubric

Safety Domain Override:

If any of these items are scored 3-4, initiate a safety-centered team conversation regardless of total score.

- "Emergency situations at home are common and often poorly managed."
- "I feel unprepared for handling emergencies or safety concerns in the home."
- "I am constantly worried about the safety of other children in the home."
- "Our home lacks necessary equipment or modifications for my child's safety needs."

0-72

Stable with Strain -
Monthly or biweekly
sessions if requested

73-144

Systemic Tension -
Biweekly sessions

145-216

Trauma Activation
Present - Weekly sessions

217-288

Crisis Embedded in Care - Weekly sessions plus additional check-ins

of "Yes"	Activation Level	Interpretation	Suggested Next Steps
0–72	Sustained Stability	Few stress indicators. Caregiver feels equipped.	Low need – monthly or biweekly check-ins if requested
73–144	Emerging Disruption	Moderate strain across multiple domains.	Moderate need – biweekly sessions, care mapping
145–216	Trauma Activation Present	Caregiver fatigue, exhaustion, systemic distrust impairing well-being	High need – weekly sessions, coordinated supports, advocacy
217–288	Fracture Point/Systemic Harm	Critical trauma patterns. Risk of caregiver collapse or household instability.	Severe need – weekly plus additional check-ins, intensive wraparound

How to Use TRACEs

SCREENER

The Screener is useful when:

- Identifying domains where a caregiver is experiencing strain
- Gauging progression of minimal strain over time
- Presenting a snapshot of caregiver strain

FULL ASSESSMENT

Use the Full Assessment to:

- Identify specific degrees of strain that a caregiver is experiencing
- Determine additional support referrals specifically for caregivers
- Measure detailed progress over time

The Key Difference:

Short-Form: Is trauma activation present? (Yes/No screening)

Full Assessment: How severe is the strain, and where? (0-4 scale across 72 items)

TRACES VINGETTES

TRACES Screening Tool
Breakout Rooms

VINGETTE - JESSICA

Jessica has been parenting her daughter Simone (14) alone since the divorce two years ago, but it's only in the last six months that things have spiraled beyond her control. Simone started cutting in January, was hospitalized twice for suicidal ideation by March, and now cycles between defiant rage and catatonic withdrawal. Jessica works from home as a medical billing specialist, which sounds flexible until you're trying to focus on insurance codes while your teenager is sobbing in the next room or has barricaded herself in the bathroom with a razor. The psychiatric unit discharged Simone after seventy-two hours each time with a safety plan, medication adjustments, and referrals to outpatient therapists—but every therapist Jessica calls either isn't taking new patients, doesn't accept their insurance, or has a three-month waitlist.

The school has been "very concerned" but offers little beyond suggesting Jessica consider alternative placements, as if she can just ship her daughter somewhere else. Simone's pediatrician increased her antidepressant dosage twice, but there's no psychiatrist available for actual medication management—just fifteen-minute check-ins where the doctor asks if things are "better or worse" and scribbles new prescriptions. Jessica's ex-husband sends child support but refuses to take Simone for his weekends anymore, claiming he "can't handle the drama," which leaves Jessica white-knuckling it through every moment. She's maxed out her sick days taking Simone to appointments, spent her savings on the brief stint with a private therapist who quit the practice without warning, and stopped answering calls from her own mother who keeps suggesting that Simone just needs "more discipline."

DISCUSSION

TAKE A
BREAK

Your Role as Facilitator

As a family peer supporter using TRACEs, you are not a therapist, case manager, or service provider. You are a witness, guide, and advocate.

Your role is to:

- Create a safe space for honest dialogue
- Administer the TRACEs Assessment with compassion and clarity
- Interpret results through a trauma-informed lens
- Connect caregivers to appropriate supports and resources
- Advocate for systemic change based on what you see
- Maintain your own boundaries and practice self-care

Core Principles for TRACEs

Facilitators

DIGNITY-CENTERED PRACTICE

Every caregiver you work with deserves to be seen, heard, and valued. This means:

- Never assuming you know their story
- Honoring their agency and choices
- Avoiding savior narratives or fixing language
- Recognizing that you are a guide, not a rescuer

TRAUMA-INFORMED FACILITATION

Being trauma-informed means understanding that:

- Behavior is communication (defensiveness, withdrawal, anger all have meaning)
 - Safety is relational, not just physical
 - Choice and control matter deeply
 - Caregivers may have been harmed by systems meant to help
-

Core Principles for TRACEs

Facilitators

ANTI-DEPENDENCY ORIENTATION

Your goal is not to make caregivers dependent on you, but to empower them toward independence and self-advocacy.

This means:

- Teaching skills, not just providing answers
- Connecting caregivers to resources they can access independently
- Celebrating progress and capacity-building
- Avoiding language that positions you as the only solution

Core Principles for TRACEs Facilitators

DIGNITY-CENTERED PRACTICE

Every caregiver you work with deserves to be seen, heard, and valued. This means:

- Never assuming you know their story
- Honoring their agency and choices
- Avoiding savior narratives or fixing language
- Recognizing that you are a guide, not a rescuer

TRAUMA-INFORMED FACILITATION

Being trauma-informed means understanding that:

- Behavior is communication (defensiveness, withdrawal, anger all have meaning)
- Safety is relational, not just physical
- Choice and control matter deeply
- Caregivers may have been harmed by systems meant to help

Core Principles for TRACEs Facilitators

ANTI-DEPENDENCY ORIENTATION

Your goal is not to make caregivers dependent on you, but to empower them toward independence and self-advocacy.

This means:

- Teaching skills, not just providing answers
- Connecting caregivers to resources they can access independently
- Celebrating progress and capacity-building
- Avoiding language that positions you as the only solution

DIFFICULT CONVERSATIONS

...

TAKE A
BREAK

TRACES PORTAL

TracesPortal.IncuBrighter.org

You have been invited to TRACEs Pilot App

External

Inbox x

TRACEs Pilot App <ira64762@softr.app>

Tue, Jan 27, 11:59 AM (5 days ago)

to me ▼

Hi Leah Buzek,

You've been invited to join TRACEs Pilot App.

Please click on this link to log into the application:

<https://ira64762.softr.app/accept-invitation?token=019c0065-8732-7615-805d-88508ff12772>

TRACEs Pilot App is built with Softr, the most intuitive way to build client portals, internal tools and other web apps without code.

↩ Reply

➡ Forward

New

💬 Share in chat

Home

Screening

New Screening

Assessments

New Assessment

New Family

This will say your name

Welcome Back, Jane!

Welcome to the TRACEs site! Thank you so much work using TRACEs in your work! This site is used to keep track of TRACEs Screening and Assessment scores. The data you provide here will support education and advocacy work across the country, uplifting families that need help with the most complex cases.

Submit a New Screening

Submit a New Assessment

Add a New Family

These will be your screenings

Your TRACEs Screenings

Family ID: 1622

Total Screening Score: 5

1/5/2026

- Home
- Screening
- New Screening
- Assessments
- New Assessment
- New Family

Your TRACeS Assessments

Here goes the subtitle of the heading

Your Assessments will be listed here

No results found, try adjusting your search and filters.

TRACeS Documentation

Download the TRACeS screener, assessment, and facilitator guide.

FULL
ASSESSMENT

72-Statement Assessment

Download

SCREENER

12-Statement Screener

Download

FACILITATOR
GUIDE

Facilitator's Guide

Download

- Home
- Screening
- New Screening
- Assessments
- New Assessment
- New Family

Click here to open

 Screener or assessment

 details

Screening
Actions	Date	Unique ID Numbers	Total Screener Score
Open	1/5/2026	1622	5

Home

Screening

New Screening

Assessments

New Assessment

New Family

Actions	Date
Open	1/5/2026

Jane Doe
something@somet...

Made with softr

Here are the details for the screening of 1622 from 1/5/2026

Total Screening Score: 5

I find it challenging to understand and respond to my child's needs.

Yes

Conflicts due to parenting disagreements frequently arise in our family.

No

Involvement with extended family often leads to more stress rather than well-being.

Not Applicable

I often feel isolated from my community due to my child's needs or behaviors.

Yes

Caring for my child's needs places a significant financial burden on our family.

Yes

Our home lacks necessary equipment or modifications for my child's safety needs.

No

I struggle to manage my child's challenging behaviors effectively.

No

Changes and challenges disrupt our family routines significantly.

Yes

Extended family lacks understanding and acceptance of my child's needs.

Yes

Advocating for my child's needs in social and community settings is overwhelming.

No

I have had to make difficult career or job changes due to my child's needs.

No

My child threatens or is physically violent with me or others in my home.

No

TRACEs Screening Tool

The Screener is intended as a starting point—a way to open space for honest dialogue and caregiver-centered planning. It may be used at intake, during care team meetings, or in reflective peer support conversations. Rather than dictating eligibility for services, the number of “Yes” responses helps guide the type and urgency of next steps. These may include team-based planning, coordination of services, clinical integration, or safety supports; depending on what the caregiver wants and needs.

TRACEs © 2025 by Leah Buzek is licensed under CC BY-NC-ND 4.0.

Date*

01:36 PM

Location*

▼

Staff Member*

▼

-  Home
-  Screening
-  New Screening
-  Assessments
-  New Assessment
-  New Family

TRACeS Assessment

The TRACeS Assessment offers a focused lens on the invisible burdens carried by caregivers of multi-system-involved youth. By highlighting patterns of relational stress, system fatigue, and emotional depletion, the Assessment helps providers, peer supporters, and care teams understand when a caregiver may need stabilization, collaborative planning, or deeper conversation. This comprehensive tool provides detailed insight into the degree and location of caregiver trauma.

TRACeS © 2025 by Leah Buzek is licensed under CC BY-NC-ND 4.0.

General Form Information

Date*

Location*

Staff Member*

- Home
- Screening
- New Screening
- Assessments
- New Assessment
- New Family

New Family Form

This form is used to add new clients to your case load. The New Family Form is designed to intake de-identified information only. Please make sure that you are not including any protected personal information (PPI). You may select more than one system of care that a client family is involved with.

TRACEs © 2025 by Leah Buzek is licensed under CC BY-NC-ND 4.0.

Date Added *

🕒 01:37 PM

Location *

Staff Member *

Home

Supervisor Hub

Screening

New Screening

Assessments

New Assessment

New Family

John Citizen
johncitizen@citizen

Your Staff

See Records Based on Selected Staff Member

John Citizen

Click here to open staff records

Open

Jane Doe

Open

- Home
- Supervisor Hub
- Screening
- New Screening
- Assessments
- New Assessment
- New Family

Your Staff

See Records Based on Selected Staff Member

John Citizen

Jane Doe

Jane Doe

St. John's United

Montana

Jane Doe's Screenings

Here goes the subtitle of the heading

Family ID: 1622

Total Screening Score: 5

1/5/2026

Click here to open specific staff records

Open

Jane Doe's Assessments

Here goes the subtitle of the heading

- Home
- Supervisor Hub
- Screening
- New Screening
- Assessments
- New Assessment
- New Family

Your Staff

See Records Based on Selected Staff Member

John Citizen

Jane Doe

Here are the details for the screening of 1622 from 1/5/2026

Total Screening Score: 5

I find it challenging to understand and respond to my child's needs.

Yes

Conflicts due to parenting disagreements frequently arise in our family.

No

Involvement with extended family often leads to more stress rather than well-being.

Not Applicable

I often feel isolated from my community due to my child's needs or behaviors.

Yes

Caring for my child's needs places a significant financial burden on our family.

Yes

I struggle to manage my child's challenging behaviors effectively.

No

Changes and challenges disrupt our family routines significantly.

Yes

Extended family lacks understanding and acceptance of my child's needs.

Yes

Advocating for my child's needs in social and community settings is overwhelming.

No

I have had to make difficult career or job changes due to my child's needs.

No

QUESTIONS & DISCUSSION

LEAH BUZEK

Leah@IncuBrighter.org

IncuBrighter.org